JOSEPH KENNEY

Dear Joseph:

Thank you for very much for the wonderful job you did showing your animals to us today.

Not only were the children excited to learn more about the different animals, their habitat, feeding requirements, and so much more, but the adults enjoyed the show also.

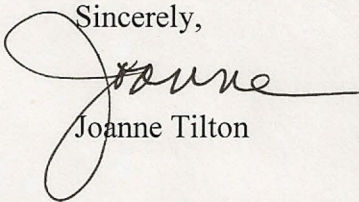

My initial reaction to having such a show was that I would be squeamish. Surprised myself and actually touched and held some of them. An educational experience for a retired teacher!

Your ability to answer so many questions about so many different animals demonstrates just how knowledgeable you are about these animals. It is evident that you truly love each and every one of them. Snowball, Cinnamon, and Tortellini were my favorite.

I am sure that you are a valued worker at the Roger Williams Zoo in Providence, RI. The experience you gain there will be invaluable as you as you work towards your goal of becoming a zoologist.

At 17, you should be proud of your many accomplishments. We are so pleased that you and your family summer at our seasonal campground.

Sincerely,

Joanne Tilton
